

[illegible]

Field Notes

ASTRONOMICAL MEMORANDA FOR NOVEMBER 27.—Sun rises at 6:54, sets at 4:54, in business under the hammer, but we heard

ELLIS and CO.—At the Yards, at 12, Port Calves, Lamb, Pig, &c.; at 1, Mill Creek; at Chatterdown, at 3, Rivers.

RICHARDSON and VALENTINE—At Chambers of Commerce, at 3, Sheepskin; at 2, 80, Wool.

A. ALLAN.—On the Premises, Mill-street, at 11, Limes, Furniture.

DEWENT and HOSKIN.—As Darling Harbour, at 10, Bliss Wood &c.

A society has been formed in the Church of England to preserve intact the prayer-book as it now is. On the other side, Dean Stanley lately spoke in favour of a number of changes, and condemned the rule which forbade the use of the burial service over "the most mighty monarch of the Society of Divines, or the most illustrious child of a Scepter."

opposed to the 30th clause, which was very inadequate to be abused. He thought there should be a clause for temporary schools in such places as gold-fields, where the population was scattered. He denied that there was any tyranny in the refusal of the State to teach dogma or to contribute towards the teaching of dogma, and argued that it was the duty of the State to see that its children, who would be its future citizens, and might eventually hold high offices in the Government, should be taught the elements of education, such as reading, writing, and ciphering. He also stated that one of the principal speakers at the Roman Catholic meeting held at St. Mary's, practically recognised that there was no necessity for the separation of school children of different denominations, inasmuch as the last thirty years have had no other edifice.

INTERCOLONIAL LIFE AND FIRE COMPANY

The notes signified at seven minutes to 4 o'clock until 4 o'clock today.

In the Legislative Assembly, yesterday.

Mr. SUTTON stated, in answer to Mr. Jacob, that fourteen new Denominational schools had obtained certificates under section 9 of the Public Schools Act and Mr. HOWARD stated, in answer to Mr. Farnell, that he could not definitely say whether the Government would introduce an Oyster Fisheries Bill during the present session. Mr. WATSON stated, in reply to Mr. Cohen, that the appointment of Mr. Eckford to the office of coastwarder at Port Stephens had been confirmed by the Governor and the Executive Council.

Mr. BURNS presented a petition from Mr. Henry W. S. Edmunds, praying the House to make provision

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENTS.)

Sydney, had 1700 cases; and it was reported that Aminta, loading, would take a large shipment of for this market. Forbes' Circular puts the quantity at 20,000 cases, also 800 barrels resin, and reports a handsome sized shipment of oil for Melbourne by the "Cassius W. Shipley." The George Trist was expected to leave for Adelaide. Freight rates at 25 cents per cubic foot for Melbourne or Adelaide. Exchange, 4/80 dollars per £. There is a good demand for galvanized iron at last quotations. Cement is in demand, and likely to go higher. A London telegram reports a 1s. per gross advance on pig-iron. The sale of new loss of Mails is reported. Messrs. Fraser and Co's rooms did not result in business under the hammer, but we heard that the yield of the canes was unsatisfactory. Up

ELLIS and CO.—At the Yard, at 12, Pat Calves, Lamb, Pig, &c. at 1, Miles Cove; at Chandon, at 2, Horse.

RICHARDSON and WRENCH—At Lambey of Commorator, at Sheepskin; at 2, 50, Wood.

A. ALLAN—On the Premises, Pitt-street, at 11, Mosses, Fur, &c.

ANDERSON and HOSKIN—At Darling Harbour, at 10, Mill Street &c.

A society has been formed in the Church of England to preserve intact the prayer-book as it now is. On the other side, Dean Stanley lately spoke in favour of a number of changes, and condemned the rule which forbade the use of the burial service over "the most intimate member of the Society of Friends, or the most illustrious child of a Baptist."

Mr. WATSON gave notice of his intention to move opposed to the 20th clause, which was very likely to be abused. He thought there should be a clause for temporary schools in such places as gold-fields, where the population was unsettled. He denied that there was any tyranny in the refusal of the State to teach dogma or to contribute towards the teaching of dogma. He argued that it was the duty of the State to see that all children, who would be its future citizens, and must eventually hold high offices in the Government, receive the elements of education, such as reading, writing, cyphering. He also stated that one of the principal speakers at the Roman Catholic meeting held at St. Mary's, practically recognized that there was no necessity for the separation of school children of different denominations, inasmuch for would earn the everlasting gratitude of the

Mr. FITZPATRICK is a representative Catholic, although he did not profess to speak as one. And when he says that the Public school inflict upon the Catholics no hardship or injustice; that, instead of oppressing their consciences, the system exhibits a tender regard for them; that the false charges of immorality and lawlessness malign the colony, and slander the thousands who during the last thirty years have had no other education.

FOR RICHMOND RIVER.—By the Richmond (s.), on Friday
A. M.

ELLIS and CO.—At the Yard, at 12, Pat Calves, Lamb, Pig, &c. at 1, Miles Cove; at Chandon, at 2, Horse.

RICHARDSON and WRENCH—At Lambey of Commorator, at Sheepskin; at 2, 50, Wood.

A. ALLAN—On the Premises, Pitt-street, at 11, Mosses, Fur, &c.

ANDERSON and HOSKIN—At Darling Harbour, at 10, Mill Street &c.

A society has been formed in the Church of England to preserve intact the prayer-book as it now is. On the other side, Dean Stanley lately spoke in favour of a number of changes, and condemned the rule which forbade the use of the burial service over "the most intimate member of the Society of Friends, or the most illustrious child of a Baptist."

Jewellers, and wholesale at the Warehouse of our Sole Agents,
I. JACOBS AND CO., 30, HUNTER-STREET.

The notes signified at seven minutes to 4 o'clock until 4 o'clock today.

In the Legislative Assembly, yesterday.

Mr. SUTTON stated, in answer to Mr. Jacob, that fourteen new Denominational schools had obtained certificates under section 9 of the Public Schools Act, and Mr. HOWARD stated, in answer to Mr. Farnell, that he could not definitely say whether the Government would introduce an Oyster Fisheries Bill during the present session. Mr. WATSON stated, in reply to Mr. Cohen, that the appointment of Mr. Eckford to the office of coastwarder at Port Stephens had been confirmed by the Governor and the Executive Council.

Mr. BURNS presented a petition from Mr. Henry W. S. Edmunds, praying the House to make provision numerous, and he was sure that it was purely fr

opposed to the 20th clause, which was very likely to be abused. He thought there should be a clause for temporary schools in such places as gold-fields, where the population was unsettled. He denied that there was any tyranny in the refusal of the State to teach dogma or to contribute towards the teaching of dogma. He argued that it was the duty of the State to see that all children, who would be its future citizens, and must eventually hold high offices in the Government, receive the elements of education, such as reading, writing, cyphering. He also stated that one of the principal speakers at the Roman Catholic meeting held at St. Mary's, practically recognized that there was no necessity for the separation of school children of different denominations, inasmuch

SIR HENRY PARKES is quite capable of conducting his own defence, without assistance.

Mr. FITZPATRICK is a representative Catholic, although he did not profess to speak as one. And when he says that the Public school inflict upon the Catholics no hardship or injustice; that, instead of oppressing their consciences, the system exhibits a tender regard for them; that the false charges of immorality and lawlessness malign the colony, and slander the thousands who during the last thirty years have had no other education.

LABITTO, JAMES

[illegible]

http://pla.gov.au/pla/news-

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

these people are very hostile, is shown by the attitude Roumania and Montenegro. After the retrocession Bessarabia it did not require much to induce Roumanian troops to throw in her lot with any project that might be put forward by the Russian Government. The first star, and, as I have already pointed out, Prince Nicholas has made his peace with the Vienna Government, and, if we may judge by the tone of the Russian Press, he has thrown over his friend the Czar. Ingratitude is not unknown among princes and statesmen, although Russian journalists may well complain of the ingratitude of the Government for the liquidation of the foreign debt. The Government being improving by the events of the coming winter extend to Egypt, as well as to Turkey. There are many men in this country who bitterly complain that Lord Beaconsfield admitted France to all rights equal to ourselves in Egypt. There was a very considerable fear that other Powers would claim equal privileges. France, however, was the first to make her claims, and the Roumanian and in the main features of the Egyptian question they have been successful, but their work is not yet completed. While other European Powers will have no share in the control or administration of Egyptian affairs, they will, at least, have a voice in those arrangements which are intended to appropriate the most fertile provinces for the liquidation of the foreign debt. The details which relate to the latter object are now under consideration.

The withdrawal of our representative from Barmah generally approved, but, though a wise course, nobody regards it as exceedingly unfortunate. The protests against the massacre of the Royal family were unheeded, and our representatives have been scarcely threatened and insulted to the point of being expelled. But the Government have been by their hands too full to embark in fresh hostilities. Public opinion at home is weary of little war. The conquest of Barmah would have been a splendid prelude from a commercial point of view; it would have repaid the Government far better than a story of impoverished country like Afghanistan. No doubt the splendid success of the expedition would have given us a popularity more deeply than Lord Lytton. It is not sure whether the annexation of Barmah was not part of his programme. But the chance may yet arise for a difficulty is still pending between the Burmese and the Indian Governments respecting the limits of Burmese Empire.

The news of an impending war between China and Japan has not yet been taken into account. At present it is difficult to understand what the two countries are right in their claim to the islands in dispute. There is little doubt that one time China had the stronger claim to them, but late years she seems to have permitted it to lapse. It is firmly believed here that Russia means to give moral support to the Chinese, and that this friendly support will be the means of giving them a ship was one of the arrangements which sprang from the Kuldja settlement. A prolongation of war between China and Russia could hardly fail to end to the advantage of China. Japan might secure initial success, but the enormous resources of China and the fleet of splendid gunboats which she commands would in the long-run prevail. The Chinese Government will certainly not allow the Russian fleet in the Pacific with a class of smart, fast, cruisers, which would do a deal of harm to the commerce of any country with which Russia was at war.

Having surveyed mankind from China, I perceived that the only thing that is left to me to hope for is Agriculture. Trade is undoubtedly improving. Though the revenue returns up to the end of September showed a falling off of more than half a million sterling, it would make a taxpayer to take a gloomy view of the prospects, the Board of Trade returns for last month tell a very different story. Those returns are far more encouraging than the preceding ones, and show a commerce than any of the figures that are so much quoted in the quarter's revenue returns that are issued from the Treasury. We are beginning to hope that the tide is on the turn for everybody but the farmer, and he, too, follows, is in a deplorable state. But the hope-growers are even worse than the farmers. We are this year getting a very good crop of wheat, but the crop of the other harvest will do little more than pay the tax—a very heavy one, by the way. You may judge what the yield has been by the experience of a grower, whose crop may be taken as a fair sample of the rest. As a rule, his hop harvest yields from 2400 to 26000. This year he hoped to obtain 2600; up last week this high he had been several times. He might have held his head, he thought another bumper might yet give him 2480.

In home politics Sir William Harcourt, M.P., furnished us with some very indignant attacks upon the Government, but, like all the rest of the remarks that come from the Opposition, his criticism is purely destructive. If the Opposition leaders were to be taken into account, the Government would be obliged to ignore the national distrust of Russia, they might secure an advantage from the Afghan disaster, and to other disadvantages of the Ministerial campaign. But it has been the misfortune of Sir W. Harcourt, Mr. Baxter, of Mr. Childers, of Mr. Gladstone, even Lord Hartington to recognise that the despotic and tyrannical rule of the Government, the administration of the constituencies will follow no leaders who ignore and who glory in ignoring, the dangers of Russian aggression. Heroin lies the strength of the Minister. The Afghan disaster somewhat shook their position, but a speedy success, if it leaves our frontier stronger than it was, will enable the Government to carry out their policy of aggression with policy, provided it can ignore the national distrust of Russia, they might secure an advantage from the Afghan disaster, and to other disadvantages of the Ministerial campaign. But it has been the misfortune of Sir W. Harcourt, Mr. Baxter, of Mr. Childers, of Mr. Gladstone, even Lord Hartington to recognise that the despotic and tyrannical rule of the Government, the administration of the constituencies will follow no leaders who ignore and who glory in ignoring, the dangers of Russian aggression. Heroin lies the strength of the Minister. The Afghan disaster somewhat shook their position, but a speedy success, if it leaves our frontier stronger than it was, will enable the Government to carry out their policy of aggression with policy, provided it can ignore the national distrust of Russia, they might secure an advantage from the Afghan disaster, and to other disadvantages of the Ministerial campaign. But it has been the misfortune of Sir W. Harcourt, Mr. Baxter, of Mr. Childers, of Mr. Gladstone, even Lord Hartington to recognise that the despotic and tyrannical rule of the Government, the administration of the constituencies will follow no leaders who ignore and who glory in ignoring, the dangers of Russian aggression. Heroin lies the strength of the Minister. The Afghan disaster somewhat shook their position, but a speedy success, if it leaves our frontier stronger than it was, will enable the Government to carry out their policy of aggression with policy, provided it can ignore the national distrust of Russia, they might secure an advantage from the Afghan disaster, and to other disadvantages of the Ministerial campaign. But it has been the misfortune of Sir W. Harcourt, Mr. Baxter, of Mr. Childers, of Mr. Gladstone, even Lord Hartington to recognise that the despotic and tyrannical rule of the Government, the administration of the constituencies will follow no leaders who ignore and who glory in ignoring, the dangers of Russian aggression. Heroin lies the strength of the Minister. The Afghan disaster somewhat shook their position, but a speedy success, if it leaves our frontier stronger than it was, will enable the Government to carry out their policy of aggression with policy, provided it can ignore the national distrust of Russia, they might secure an advantage from the Afghan disaster, and to other disadvantages of the Ministerial campaign. But it has been the misfortune of Sir W. Harcourt, Mr. Baxter, of Mr. Childers, of Mr. Gladstone, even Lord Hartington to recognise that the despotic and tyrannical rule of the Government, the administration of the constituencies will follow no leaders who ignore and who glory in ignoring, the dangers of Russian aggression. Heroin lies the strength of the Minister. The Afghan disaster somewhat shook their position, but a speedy success, if it leaves our frontier stronger than it was, will enable the Government to carry out their policy of aggression with policy, provided it can ignore the national distrust of Russia, they might secure an advantage from the Afghan disaster, and to other disadvantages of the Ministerial campaign. But it has been the misfortune of Sir W. Harcourt, Mr. Baxter, of Mr. Childers, of Mr. Gladstone, even Lord Hartington to recognise that the despotic and tyrannical rule of the Government, the administration of the constituencies will follow no leaders who ignore and who glory in ignoring, the dangers of Russian aggression. Heroin lies the strength of the Minister. The Afghan disaster somewhat shook their position, but a speedy success, if it leaves our frontier stronger than it was, will enable the Government to carry out their policy of aggression with policy, provided it can ignore the national distrust of Russia, they might secure an advantage from the Afghan disaster, and to other disadvantages of the Ministerial campaign. But it has been the misfortune of Sir W. Harcourt, Mr. Baxter, of Mr. Childers, of Mr. Gladstone, even Lord Hartington to recognise that the despotic and tyrannical rule of the Government, the administration of the constituencies will follow no leaders who ignore and who glory in ignoring, the dangers of Russian aggression. Heroin lies the strength of the Minister. The Afghan disaster somewhat shook their position, but a speedy success, if it leaves our frontier stronger than it was, will enable the Government to carry out their policy of aggression with policy, provided it can ignore the national distrust of Russia, they might secure an advantage from the Afghan disaster, and to other disadvantages of the Ministerial campaign. But it has been the misfortune of Sir W. Harcourt, Mr. Baxter, of Mr. Childers, of Mr. Gladstone, even Lord Hartington to recognise that the despotic and tyrannical rule of the Government, the administration of the constituencies will follow no leaders who ignore and who glory in ignoring, the dangers of Russian aggression. Heroin lies the strength of the Minister. The Afghan disaster somewhat shook their position, but a speedy success, if it leaves our frontier stronger than it was, will enable the Government to carry out their policy of aggression with policy, provided it can ignore the national distrust of Russia, they might secure an advantage from the Afghan disaster, and to other disadvantages of the Ministerial campaign. But it has been the misfortune of Sir W. Harcourt, Mr. Baxter, of Mr. Childers, of Mr. Gladstone, even Lord Hartington to recognise that the despotic and tyrannical rule of the Government, the administration of the constituencies will follow no leaders who ignore and who glory in ignoring, the dangers of Russian aggression. Heroin lies the strength of the Minister. The Afghan disaster somewhat shook their position, but a speedy success, if it leaves our frontier stronger than it was, will enable the Government to carry out their policy of aggression with policy, provided it can ignore the national distrust of Russia, they might secure an advantage from the Afghan disaster, and to other disadvantages of the Ministerial campaign. But it has been the misfortune of Sir W. Harcourt, Mr. Baxter, of Mr. Childers, of Mr. Gladstone, even Lord Hartington to recognise that the despotic and tyrannical rule of the Government, the administration of the constituencies will follow no leaders who ignore and who glory in ignoring, the dangers of Russian aggression. Heroin lies the strength of the Minister. The Afghan disaster somewhat shook their position, but a speedy success, if it leaves our frontier stronger than it was, will enable the Government to carry out their policy of aggression with policy, provided it can ignore the national distrust of Russia, they might secure an advantage from the Afghan disaster, and to other disadvantages of the Ministerial campaign. But it has been the misfortune of Sir W. Harcourt, Mr. Baxter, of Mr. Childers, of Mr. Gladstone, even Lord Hartington to recognise that the despotic and tyrannical rule of the Government, the administration of the constituencies will follow no leaders who ignore and who glory in ignoring, the dangers of Russian aggression. Heroin lies the strength of the Minister. The Afghan disaster somewhat shook their position, but a speedy success, if it leaves our frontier stronger than it was, will enable the Government to carry out their policy of aggression with policy, provided it can ignore the national distrust of Russia, they might secure an advantage from the Afghan disaster, and to other disadvantages of the Ministerial campaign. But it has been the misfortune of Sir W. Harcourt, Mr. Baxter, of Mr. Childers, of Mr. Gladstone, even Lord Hartington to recognise that the despotic and tyrannical rule of the Government, the administration of the constituencies will follow no leaders who ignore and who glory in ignoring, the dangers of Russian aggression. Heroin lies the strength of the Minister. The Afghan disaster somewhat shook their position, but a speedy success, if it leaves our frontier stronger than it was, will enable the Government to carry out their policy of aggression with policy, provided it can ignore the national distrust of Russia, they might secure an advantage from the Afghan disaster, and to other disadvantages of the Ministerial campaign. But it has been the misfortune of Sir W. Harcourt, Mr. Baxter, of Mr. Childers, of Mr. Gladstone, even Lord Hartington to recognise that the despotic and tyrannical rule of the Government, the administration of the constituencies will follow no leaders who ignore and who glory in ignoring, the dangers of Russian aggression. Heroin lies the strength of the Minister. The Afghan disaster somewhat shook their position, but a speedy success, if it leaves our frontier stronger than it was, will enable the Government to carry out their policy of aggression with policy, provided it can ignore the national distrust of Russia, they might secure an advantage from the Afghan disaster, and to other disadvantages of the Ministerial campaign. But it has been the misfortune of Sir W. Harcourt, Mr. Baxter, of Mr. Childers, of Mr. Gladstone, even Lord Hartington to recognise that the despotic and tyrannical rule of the Government, the administration of the constituencies will follow no leaders who ignore and who glory in ignoring, the dangers of Russian aggression. Heroin lies the strength of the Minister. The Afghan disaster somewhat shook their position, but a speedy success, if it leaves our frontier stronger than it was, will enable the Government to carry out their policy of aggression with policy, provided it can ignore the national distrust of Russia, they might secure an advantage from the Afghan disaster, and to other disadvantages of the Ministerial campaign. But it has been the misfortune of Sir W. Harcourt, Mr. Baxter, of Mr. Childers, of Mr. Gladstone, even Lord Hartington to recognise that the despotic and tyrannical rule of the Government, the administration of the constituencies will follow no leaders who ignore and who glory in ignoring, the dangers of Russian aggression. Heroin lies the strength of the Minister. The Afghan disaster somewhat shook their position, but a speedy success, if it leaves our frontier stronger than it was, will enable the Government to carry out their policy of aggression with policy, provided it can ignore the national distrust of Russia, they might secure an advantage from the Afghan disaster, and to other disadvantages of the Ministerial campaign. But it has been the misfortune of Sir W. Harcourt, Mr. Baxter, of Mr. Childers, of Mr. Gladstone, even Lord Hartington to recognise that the despotic and tyrannical rule of the Government, the administration of the constituencies will follow no leaders who ignore and who glory in ignoring, the dangers of Russian aggression. Heroin lies the strength of the Minister. The Afghan disaster somewhat shook their position, but a speedy success, if it leaves our frontier stronger than it was, will enable the Government to carry out their policy of aggression with policy, provided it can ignore the national distrust of Russia, they might secure an advantage from the Afghan disaster, and to other disadvantages of the Ministerial campaign. But it has been the misfortune of Sir W. Harcourt, Mr. Baxter, of Mr. Childers, of Mr. Gladstone, even Lord Hartington to recognise that the despotic and tyrannical rule of the Government, the administration of the constituencies will follow no leaders who ignore and who glory in ignoring, the dangers of Russian aggression. Heroin lies the strength of the Minister. The Afghan disaster somewhat shook their position, but a speedy success, if it leaves our frontier stronger than it was, will enable the Government to carry out their policy of aggression with policy, provided it can ignore the national distrust of Russia, they might secure an advantage from the Afghan disaster, and to other disadvantages of the Ministerial campaign. But it has been the misfortune of Sir W. Harcourt, Mr. Baxter, of Mr. Childers, of Mr. Gladstone, even Lord Hartington to recognise that the despotic and tyrannical rule of the Government, the administration of the constituencies will follow no leaders who ignore and who glory in ignoring, the dangers of Russian aggression. Heroin lies the strength of the Minister. The Afghan disaster somewhat shook their position, but a speedy success, if it leaves our frontier stronger than it was, will enable the Government to carry out their policy of aggression with policy, provided it can ignore the national distrust of Russia, they might secure an advantage from the Afghan disaster, and to other disadvantages of the Ministerial campaign. But it has been the misfortune of Sir W. Harcourt, Mr. Baxter, of Mr. Childers, of Mr. Gladstone, even Lord Hartington to recognise that the despotic and tyrannical rule of the Government, the administration of the constituencies will follow no leaders who ignore and who glory in ignoring, the dangers of Russian aggression. Heroin lies the strength of the Minister. The Afghan disaster somewhat shook their position, but a speedy success, if it leaves our frontier stronger than it was, will enable the Government to carry out their policy of aggression with policy, provided it can ignore the national distrust of Russia, they might secure an advantage from the Afghan disaster, and to other disadvantages of the Ministerial campaign. But it has been the misfortune of Sir W. Harcourt, Mr. Baxter, of Mr. Childers, of Mr. Gladstone, even Lord Hartington to recognise that the despotic and tyrannical rule of the Government, the administration of the constituencies will follow no leaders who ignore and who glory in ignoring, the dangers of Russian aggression. Heroin lies the strength of the Minister. The Afghan disaster somewhat shook their position, but a speedy success, if it leaves our frontier stronger than it was, will enable the Government to carry out their policy of aggression with policy, provided it can ignore the national distrust of Russia, they might secure an advantage from the Afghan disaster, and to other disadvantages of the Ministerial campaign. But it has been the misfortune of Sir W. Harcourt, Mr. Baxter, of Mr. Childers, of Mr

[illegible]

There was a moderate attendance of visitors persons visited the Art Gallery, and, as usual, there were no sparing in their complaints about the absurd arrangement that permit them to enter the building by the front door, but compel them to find their way out as best they can by a back door. The Horticultural Show, which is being held in the Agricultural Hall, Exhibition grounds, was open again yesterday. There was a meagre attendance of visitors in the morning, but the numbers increased considerably in the afternoon. The show will continue open until Friday evening.

Intending exhibitors at the wool show, which is open on the 19th and 20th, are reminded that entries must be made by the 14th of December.

The attendance yesterday was as follows:—Society ticket-holders, 416; general public, 3100; children, 301; exhibitors and others, 828—total, 4845.

THE MUSIC AT THE GARDEN PALACE.

On the German Court, yesterday, a large number assembled before the advertised hour, and patiently waited for the recital on the Bechstein grand piano by M^{me}. Sammerhayes. The programme began with a brilliant vase by Joachim Raff, whose intricacies of execution received careful interpretation. The numerous passages of double notes were very clearly and evenly produced. The prelude, of a more plaintive dignity, followed Raff's vase; and this was succeeded by a brilliant fantasia of Thalberg's, and a charming caprice of Wehli, "Minnehaha." The programme was given at the request of several persons present, though not set down in the programme. Gottschalk's "Banjo," with its singular effects well reproduced, and a set of variations on "Cherry Hill," concluded the enjoyable performance.

M^{me}. Lamal gave her usual selection of music by Belgian composers on the semi-grand of Gunther, and at 3 p.m. M^{me}. Sammerhayes gave her thirty-six recital on the Brimmed patent piano, in front of the orchestra. The programme was entirely different from that played in the morning. It consisted of a fantasia on "Balsoral," by Jules de Sirra; Golop concert, by Ketterer; the Rhapsodie Hongroise Liszt, and Rubinstein's grand arrangement of the Turkish March, from Beethoven's "Ruins of Athens" may be easily understood as forming an effective contrasted and brilliant quartet. In addition to the prayer from Mendelssohn, the performance, as a whole, was a triumph. The performance, as a whole, displayed the capabilities of the piano and the pianist in their best form.

To-day Signor Giozza conducts an orchestral concert under the central dome.

THE ART GALLERY. IV.

The second of the British Court in the Art Gallery is the second, and probably the finest in the whole Exhibition. It is excellently lighted, very spacious and the pictures are hung with great taste and judgment. It contains also works by such artists as Ansell, Sir John Gilbert, Alma-Tadema, Goodall, Armitage, Dobson, Cope, and others—all Royal Academicians, as well as one of the chief characters in the art world, the late Sir Charles Eastlake, of Haleswell, A.B.S.A. Go where you may in this room there is something of interest and beauty to be seen—something which is not mere painting, but is an illustration of the power of art to imitate its only teacher—Nature, and to realize, in form and colour, poetical conceptions.

There are three pictures in their numerical order, the visitor should commence at the left hand side of the entrance door, where the first striking painting is by Wm Bromley's "Gossip at the Style" (71), an interview between a gamekeeper and his sweetheart. The subject is simple, and the treatment good, the brown of the coat contrasting well with the pinks of the girl's dress, which is a fine touch of colouring to the appropriate. Next is Dobson's picture (74), "Christ Raising the Widow's Son." Those who recollect the "Peace be to this House," by the same painter, will at once perceive the similarity of the face which Dobson gives to the Saviour, but there is more dignity of form in the "Peace be to this House," and more of the religious character in this. Still there is fine work about the painting of other respects, and the colouring is good. The surprise of the young man just restored to life (which is reflected in that of the group of spectators around) telling, and the rapture in his mother's face and attitude are beautifully expressed. This is the best point of view.

Next is E. Armitage's "Pygmalion and Galatea" (77). The fable of the Greek sculptor is known, and, of course, to all, and this picture apparently represents the moment when the statue, which he loved better than life, had almost arrived at animation. The whole face and body are flesh colour, but the feet and ankles are still of the marble colour. The artist has done his best to give him in his hands, at the sight of so much lovely life. One piece of the painter's art in this picture is that though the eyes and face of the statue have become human, there is yet no expression in them, and they seem to be waiting until the transformation is complete. Mr. Edwards' from Birnam Hill to Ben-Nevis, and the "Mother of Moses" (81), give another specimen of his way of treating colour. The mother has apparently left the child in his rush card and trusted him to the waters of the Nile, and she is now looking anxiously around to see if she has seen her babe. The artist has done his best to give us to understand why the strong light which crosses his figure should not also have touched the reeds through which it comes and among which the woman is standing. It seems to come from nowhere.

We have already spoken of Mr. Elmore's different styles of painting in the "Elmore" and the "House of the Good Shepherd." The picture of the "Happiest of the three," it is No. 80, the scene between John Aldin and Priscilla Mullens, from Longfellow's celebrated poem, "The Courtship of Miles Standish." Aldin is sent by the Plymouth captain to convey his proposals to the young Puritan girl, and the messenger does his best to please his mistress, the colonel's daughter, but the piercing Aldin's love, and knowing her own heart.

"As he warmed and glowed in his simple and eloquent language.

Quite forgetful of self and full of praise of his rival, Archibald, smiling; and with eyes over-running with laughter.

This is a tremendous voice, "Why don't you ask for your self, John."

Said in the voice which Mr. Elmore has so well treated.

The attitude of respect in the young man, the expression of the demure Priscilla as she sits at her spinning-wheel are exceedingly natural, while there is a good tone throughout the painting.

Mr. Goodall's two eastern pictures "Spring time in Egypt" (81) and "The Banks of the Nile" (82) show the same style of painting, but they are not the same style. If that, however, be true, in Egypt they have an uncommonly dry time of it there, so that, as it is, for the colouring is as nearly as possible that of the other picture; in fact, both are more curious than pretty, yet they are very effective, and convey an idea of the sultry climate and curious features of the country, as the artist has done. Mr. Dowling's "Market-place in Cairo" (85) is a picture which he introduces a morning effect and a little more green, but it is not so clever a piece of painting as the other. Another Eastern picture is the "Bedouin Caravan en route to Mount Sinai" (115), by Mr. E. Boas. This is very large, and occupies the principal space of the room. It is a picture of a caravan, and the dryness and heat reflected in the faces of the men, affecting all the vegetation, scanty as it is, overpowering even the camels themselves, and the peculiarly dark and shimmering shadows which are only noticeable in hot countries, are skillfully and truthfully painted. It may be objected that the sky is too dark, but the colour of the ground, but this is correct enough; if that, that London light which is peculiar to the East in summer.

Coming back from this class of pictures is like returning from a journey, and the fresh green and bright colours of home are refreshing. In the Pass of the Lyons, Perthshire, by Mr. A. K. Brown (88), there is a beautiful view of colour in the background. While the sky is a deep blue, the ground is a deep green, and the water is a deep blue. The sky is a deep blue, the ground is a deep green, and the water is a deep blue. The sky is a deep blue, the ground is a deep green, and the water is a deep blue.

at "Fell in the weeping brook. Her clothes spread wide

[illegible]

and Mr. Justice WINDYER.)

[illegible]

Musical Instruments.
H. PALING
IMPORTER OF
AMERICAN ORGAN, HARMONIUMS, and
NEW MUSIC.
A SPLENDID STOCK is NOW OPENED FOR
THE EXHIBITION SEASON.
VISITORS TO SYDNEY
are respectfully invited to inspect the carefully selected stock of
W. H. PALING,
from
THE BEST FACTORIES
of ENGLAND,
FRANCE, AMERICA, and GERMANY.
The CELEBRATED FRENCH MODEL,
PALING and COMPANY,
PIANOORTE, has TAKEN 5 FIRST PRIZES
at
SYDNEY EXHIBITIONS.
W. H. PALING,
Agent for:
MESSRS. BRINSMEAD, FLEYCHER, ROULETTE & CO.,
LONDON, AUCTION'S, SCHULTE & CO.,
LUNDI and SONS', and WAGNER'S Pianos.
WELL and COY'S, and SONS', CLOUGH and BARREN'S, SMITH ORGAN COY., and SCHULTE & ORGANS.
W. H. PALING,
266, (CORNER OF) ST. MARK'S ST.,

[illegible][illegible]

LOCK OF LAND: suitable for anything. Apply T.K. & J. Street Wharf.
ROCK OF LAND—about 1 acre, at NORTH BRIDGE, for SALE, fine view, and extensive water passage. Best Ferry passage's steamer calls at the wharf almost daily. See HERALD Column.
ROCK OF LAND—2 brick HOUSES, 5 rooms, bath, and a kitchen; a ground 50 x 124, desirable for building 40 to 50 cottages. Apply J. Street Wharf, T.K. & J.
R SALE, HOUSE, Manly Beach, £1,500, making 10 per cent. for agent.
R SALE, privately in a cool and delightful situation, miles from the railway station, on the Southern line, a house of 10 rooms, with an extensive garden, and a garage, specially suited for an invalid gentleman. The other 9 rooms are well situated for a family house, and the house is close to a station. Apply by letter and see Moss Vale Post-office.
R SALE, corner of Dorrington and Beatt Streets, Moss Vale. Allotment of LAND, 25 feet 6 inches wide by 110 feet 6 inches deep, bounded by the LANE of Elizabeth and Jamison streets. House 11 ft. wide and 11 ft. deep. Apply to the undersigned, corner of Beatt and Dorrington streets, Paddington.
REDMOND TOWN—For SALE, a brick COFFEE TASTERY and also a large and commodious detached roof, verandah, back and front, detached house, large garden stocked with fruit trees; fine manure. Apply to Mr. COLEMAN, corner of Beatt and Dorrington streets, Paddington.
ROTH STREET—LARGE ALLOTMENTS FOR SALE, fine Building Site; view unobscured, good view of the river, 10 minutes' walk from the station. W. YOUNGER, 129, Castlereagh-street.
SEASMANIA—For immediate disposal, a really good and well-constructed PRINCE OF WALES, 200 tons (about 25 miles from Hobart Town), comprising a main cabin, roof, and deck, and a small cabin, and

[illegible][illegible]

8

PIANOFOUR
HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE AND EFFECTS
Solely for the purpose of the sale of the DRAWING ROOM SUITE, blue silk
Chairs, Couches, Settees
Bedsteads, Dressing
Bureau, large Office-Desk, Glass-case, Floor-lamp
Double-barrel GUN, Garden Bench, Flower-stand
Dress Materials, Sewing Machine
Avery Weighing Machine.
Insolvent Estate of William C. Edwards.

JEWELLERY, Gold Watches, Chains, Links, Lockets
Brooches, Earrings, Rings, Glass, Alk., &c.
Insolvent Estate of S. R. Mize.
Household Furniture and Effects.

H. VAUGHAN has received instructions to sell
by auction, at his Rooms, 125, King-street East, Without reserve.
FRIDAY, 27th instant, at 12.30 o'clock sharp.
KAT. CORN. and GENERAL PRODUCE STORES,
125, King-street.

LEASE, having about 65 acres to run, at rental of 25 weeks,
LARGE GALVANIZED IRON STORE,
2 story, length 54 feet, newly covered,
NEW ENGINE, 2 h. p., with all fittings complete (suitable to Traction)
3 VEGETING MACHINES, Avery's, CHAFF CUTTER, No. 3, &c., &c.
Corn Sifts, Implements of Trade, Gas Fittings, Scaffolding, &c.
Horns, Axes, and Harness
STOCK-IN-TRADE.

H. VAUGHAN has received instructions from Messrs
D. & H. Mize and Co., in consequence of dissolution of partnership in and by auction, on FRIDAY, 26th instant, at 11 o'clock, at the above premises, 125, King-street East, Zoultre Sale.

N.B.—The above will be sold in one lot, or in lots to suit purchasers.
Inspection invited.

OLD BUILDING MATERIAL, of a ROOFTED WEATH-ERBOARD COTTAGE with STONE FOUNDATION, situated corner Bourke St. & Cleveland street, opposite Bourke
St. & Hurry Hill.
H. VAUGHAN has received instructions to sell by auction, on MONDAY, 1st December, at 4 o'clock, at the above building.
Without reserve.

MONDAY, 1st DECEMBER, at 11.30 o'clock.
LEASE 4 years to run, at $2 per week.
FURNITURE and FITTINGS of a PRIVATE RESTAURANT
HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, and Effects.

H. VAUGHAN has received instructions to sell
by auction, on MONDAY, 1st December, at 11 o'clock on the premises, 125, King-street East, at Messrs. D. & H. Mize, Cash-street, opposite THEATRE ROYAL.
Without reserve.

IN THE ESTATE OF THE DECEASED MR. GEORGE ATHERDEN.

EXTENSIVE SALE OF CITY PROPERTIES

H. VAUGHAN has received instructions with authority from the EXECUTOR to sell by auction
AT HIS NEWLY-ERECTED ROOMS, 125, KING-STREET EAST, on THURSDAY, 13th DECEMBER,
at 11 o'clock.

LOT 1.—TWO SHOPS and DWELLINGS.
Nos. 30 and 37, OXFORD-STREET.
occupied by Mr. T. J. O'Connell, subconductor, and Mr. Wm.
Wright and family warehouse, having a FRONTAGE of 12 feet 1 inch to the City wall, and a depth of 100 feet 100 feet to a street called Riley-place.

LOT 2.—TWO SHOPS and DWELLINGS.
Nos. 173 and 175, OXFORD-STREET.
occupied by Mr. P. J. O'Connell, subconductor, and Mr. Wm.
Wright and family warehouse, having a FRONTAGE to OXFORD-STREET of 24 feet, with a depth of 100 feet to a street called Crown-lane, 18 feet 6 inches.

LOT 3.—THREE SUBSTANTIALLY BUILT HOUSES of THREE STORIES, with SHOP FRONTS, Nos. 45, 47, and 49, GEORGE-STREET North,
occupied by Mr. P. J. O'Connell, subconductor, and Mr. Wm.
Wright and family warehouse, having a FRONTAGE to GEORGE-STREET of 34 feet 4 inches, by a depth of about 26 feet to a reserved passage 6 feet 6 inches wide, and a depth of 100 feet.
THIS PROPERTY is situated immediately opposite ENTRANCE to the City wall, and is a very fine property, formerly known as CAMPBELL'S WHARF.

LOT 4.—LARGE STORE, SUBSTANTIALLY BUILT
STONE 4 STORIES
Nos. 21 and 23, GEORGE-STREET North, occupied by Messrs. CAMPBELL
AND CO. opposite A.B.C. COMPANY'S NEW WHARF, having 35 feet FRONTAGE
GEORGE-STREET, and a depth of 100 feet to a street called ATHERDEN-STREET, 35 feet 8 inches.

LOT 5.—FOUR SUBSTANTIALLY BUILT HOUSES of THREE STORIES, with SHOP FRONTS, Nos. 21 and 23, GEORGE-STREET North, opposite A.B.C. COMPANY'S NEW WHARF, containing four rooms each, and a depth of 100 feet to a reserved passage to AATHERDEN-STREET of 35 feet 8 inches, by a depth of 40 feet 6 inches.

LOT 6.—ALLOTMENT OF LAND, AATHERDEN-STREET
opposite GEORGE-STREET North, opposite A.B.C. CO.
NEW WHARF, containing 1/2 acre, having a frontage to AATHERDEN-STREET of 80 feet, and a depth of 50 feet to the City wall.

LOT 7.—THREE COTTAGES, Nos. 15, 17, and 19, GLO-CESTER-STREET North, containing 12 rooms each, and a depth of 100 feet to the City wall, and a depth of 100 feet
to a street called Crown-lane, 18 feet 6 inches.

LOT 8.—COTTAGE at RANDWICK situated HOBART-STREET, Randwick, near LAWRENCE HANCOCK, containing 12 rooms, and a depth of 100 feet to the City wall, and a depth of 100 feet
to a street called Crown-lane, 18 feet 6 inches.

The above CITY PROPERTIES. Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7, connected with the CITY SEWER.
The whole of the TENANCIES are WEEKLY.

SPECIAL ATTENTION is directed to the IMPROVEMENT made to be effected by the CITY CORPORATION in the CITY CORPORATION'S NEW WHARF, to enable double the width, for which the CITY CORPORATION have received the sanction of the CITY CORPORATION.

THE ABOVE PROPERTIES MUST BE SOLD in order wind up the ESTATE in consequence of the PROCEEDS being required to serve of our LOCAL CHARITABLE IN-STITUTIONS.

PLANS will be ON VIEW at the SALE ROOMS.

For particulars of TITLE apply to Messrs. NORTON
& SMITH, SOLICITORS, SPRING-STREET.

DAY OF SALE—
THURSDAY, 13th December, at 11.30 o'clock sharp.

IN THE INSOLVENT ESTATE OF HENRY LUMSDAINE

The Official Assignee's right, title, and interest in QUARTER
ACRE of LAND, situated at HALLS-PIECE, PARANAT RIVER, parish of CONCORD, being 1/2 acre.

H. VAUGHAN has received instructions from the Official Assignee to sell by auction, THIS DAY, 27 instant, at 12 o'clock, at his Rooms, 125, King-street East,
The above.

IN INSOLVENT ESTATE OF JOHN HORSLEY.

The Official Assignee's right, title, and interest (if any) in the Allotments of LAND, situated at Vancouver, Line Co.
containing about 1/2 acre, being 1/2 acre, & section C,
the Vancouver Estate.

H. VAUGHAN has received instructions from the Official Assignee to sell by auction, THIS DAY, 27 instant, at 12 o'clock, at his Rooms, 125, King-street East,
The above.

FRIDAY, 27th instant, at 12.30 o'clock sharp.
BOOTS and SHOES.
GERMAN MAKE, of VERY SUPERIOR and UNUSUAL MANUFACTURE.
Without reserve, to close consignment account.
FRASER and CO. have been favoured with instructions from Messrs. GUTHRIE and Co. to sell by auction, at the C.
Mart, at 11 o'clock, on FRIDAY, 26th, 25 pairs of ladies' German boots, of special and supermachine.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON, NOVEMBER 26.
SPRUCE SHEDDING.
JUST LANDED, ex D. S. WILLIAMS.
FOR POSITIVE UNRESERVED SALE.
Under Instructions from Messrs. LOHMEYER, BOME, and CO.
To Timber Merchants, Builders, and Others.

FRASER and CO. are instructed by Messrs. Lorimer,
Borne, and Co. to sell by auction, at their Rooms, 25,
George-street, on FRIDAY AFTERNOON, November 26,
at 1 o'clock,
Ex D. S. Williams,
11,426 feet 1-inch spruce shedding
1,077 feet 1-inch white pine spruce shedding.
Terms at sale.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON, November 26.
AMERICAN DOORS.
2nd hand,
ex R.M. BALANDIA.

Comprising
100 D.M. 1/2 x 6 x 12
100 D.M. 1/2 x 6 x 12
100 D.M. 1/2 x 6 x 12
100 D.M. 1/2 x 6 x 12
100 D.M. 1/2 x 6 x 12
100 D.M. 1/2 x 6 x 12
100 D.M. 1/2 x 6 x 12
100 D.M. 1/2 x 6 x 12
Under instructions from Messrs. LOHMEYER, BOME, and CO.
To Timber Merchants, Builders, and Others.

FRASER and CO. are instructed by Messrs. Lorimer,
Borne, and Co. to sell by auction, at their Rooms, 25,
George-street, on FRIDAY AFTERNOON, November 26,
at 1 o'clock,
The shipment of American D.M. doors,
Just landed,
ex R.M. BALANDIA.

ELL'S Office and Store, op., K
Mill, Sussex-street, near Haymarket

FRESH BUTTER.—Our famous French Spring Butter, in quantities to suit the trade and families always in stock. Fresh Wool and Ice Company Limited, 18, Harbour-street.

A DELAIDE FLOUR.—Best brands on SALE.

GEORGE A. LLOYD and SONS.—Superior quality superfine Flour in bulk and bottle. MONK'S Vine Works, 251, Sussex-street and Barker's-lane.

KENDALL and SONS, Anglica Biscuits
Flour Mills, George-street.
Have for SALE.—CABIN CAVY BISCUITS
SUPERIOR PANCAKE DUTCH
Long kept, first and best quality
superfine Bakers' Flour.
In—chehold tins
J. an. Pollard, ex.

ASK your Grocer for PEMELL'S PATENT M rich in phosphates, lime, &c. Sold in 7-lb. bags, 50 lbs
CHOICE SELECTED FRUITS in Cases, each 2 1-lb. Cans, assorted Peaches, Pears, Apples, Nectarines, Muscatels, &c. &c. Price per Case, 10/- for the successive years.

and ONE SHIP CUP, AS SPECIAL. PRICE.
MARRON, AND CO., York-street, WYNDHAM-
Agents for Messrs. SQUIRRE and CO., Smith's, N.B.-y.

KIDMAN'S MYSTERY
contains 27 Articles for One Guinea

4 tins Dalmatian Condensed Milk for 25 6d.
4 tins Salmon, 2-shed brand, for 2s.
4 tins Fresh Herring, Morton's, tins.
2 lbs. Very Best Butter for 1s 6d.

JAMES KIDMAN.

THE AUSTRALIAN BEER.
Possessing the most delicious flavour for fish, poultry, wild dainties, gravies, oysters, steaks, chops, and roasts.
Furnished by the Excelsiory and the Governor and Lady Robinson.

PRICE, ONE SHILLING.

The following extracts have been selected from letters rec'd to this date, and the manufacturer respectfully solicits the patrage of the general public of the Colonies.
From His Excellency the Governor and Lady Robinson:—
"I am directed by His Excellency the Governor Robinson to return your kind wishes for your kind present of bottles of the Australian Beer, and I am further directed to express my thanks for the same. Yours truly, I am, &c."

others."

From T. S. Mott, Esq.,
"Like your Australian Rabbit much, for whilst it is a great trouble to the squatter, it does not appear to have anything lucely to do harm to the stomach."

From a well-known carpenter in Sydney.
"I think I am acquainted with its sauce, but your Australian Rabbit is, in my judgment, the very best yet produced, and quite distinctive in character."

Sold retail by all grocers and storekeepers throughout Australia, colonies, and wholesale by retail wholesale houses and manufacturers.

WASHINGTON H. SOUL,
251, PAUL-STREET,
Sydney.

SUGAR, now landing, from the Richmond River. C
BOND 64, Sussex-street.

FOR PRIVATE SALE—FIRST-CLASS BOARDING HOUSE,
situated in W. 3rd-st.-square,
with every convenience, is fitted and furnished for particulars apply to
HARRIS and ACKMAN,
Auctioneers, 111. Pitt-st.

FOR PRIVATE SALE—A RARE OPPORTUNITY.
ONE OF THE LARGEST AND BEST-APPOINTED HOTELS
IN THE CITY,
SITUATED IN GEORGE-STREET, and well supplied in respect for the patronage of a very large and industrial business. The house has been recently well and furnished, and fitted with every appliance necessary for the conduct of a first-class hotel.
For particulars apply to
HARRIS and ACKMAN,
Auctioneers, 111. Pitt-st.

FIRST-CLASS HOTEL FOR SALE
FOR SALE, BY TENDER, MILLIONS OF
 well-known
TERMINUS HOTEL,
 NEWCASTLE, including the
LEASE, LICENSE, FURNITURE, and GOODWILL, of the above
FIRST-CLASS MONEY-MAKING HOTEL.

It is in close proximity to the railway station and steam wharves, and is a large and commodious house, with a well-equipped Billiard-room, also a commodious dining-room, with other convenience for carrying on an extensive hotel trade.
 On account of the illness of the proprietor, a large well-known family of his family, the proprietor purpose leaving for England early next year;
 the business is now carried on by a competent manager.
 The business is a most profitable one, and has been since December next, when immediate possession will be given to successful tenderer.

Interested purchasers are recommended to lose no time in applying to the undersigned for particulars, and to send in the necessary for the purpose of insinuating prices, etc., and to be ready to tender on the day of sale.

FIRE SALE, on account of decease, nice BUILDING and fixtures on DUFFY street, near 10th, to be sold to the Garden Place. Apply by letter W. G. X. HERALD CO.

TO IRONMONGERS.—A genuine small General Furnishing IRON MONGER, for SALE, with a large paying stock, and well secured business. Stock and Principals only treated with. First instance, O. R. HERALD CO.

FIRE SALE, well established Stationery and Notary Office, good position, terms moderate. A. R. HERALD CO.

RIEMENSHREINER and CO. AUCTIONEERS OFFICE, 21 LEASLY ST.

CORN, PRODUCE, WOOD, and COAL BUSINESS, for SALE, with a large and well established DWELLING HOUSE, run, the w-k-w; doing an extensive business in and out of the city. Terms, first instance, R. HERALD CO.

HOTEL, with a large and well established business, machines, and wood plant, only £300. Terms, first instance, R. HERMENSHREINER and CO., 160, Phillips St.

BUER and CO., QUEENSBANK BUILDING, corner Kent and Erie streets, for positive S&Ls, through the W. H. Buer Co., 100 Broadway, New York, N. Y., only in seventeen years. Mr. Hiestein being determined to no reasonable offer will be refused. 67 Pitt-st.

FOR SALE, the Business of the MONAHO HOTEL on easy terms. $40,000, Forbes-street.

A BARGAIN.—FOR SALE, in one of the busy suburbs of New York, a large and commodious building, with the entire premises, which are admirably constructed; situated in a very desirable location, and very cheaply offered. Apply to W. H. Buer Co., 100 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

FOR SALE, BOARDING-HOUSE.—First-class building; full of boarders; rent low. A. G. B., Gen. Post Office.

FOR SALE, PRODUCE and COMMISSION business.

AGENCY BUSINESS.—Doing a good trade. Address W. H. Buer Co., 100 Broadway, New York, N. Y., to purchaser. Terms, very moderate. Principals only.

[illegible]

TELESCOPE, 8 inch, on tripod stand, splendid glass veranda use, day or night; with case complete, $5.
BRADLEY, NEWTON, and LANE, 105 Canal-st.,
New York.

DOLLS, LITTLE DOLLS for Christmas.—Bridges, order early at Central Bazaar, 428, George-st., op. Market.

WALKING CLOTHING, superior makes, at Market Bazaar, 428, George-st., New York.

FOR SALE, two Scotch Collie Dogs, lately imported first prize winners at Berwick, Scotland, and first prize at the recent National Show; male and female. 211, City Street.

The utmost value given for Gentlemen's left-off clothing, jewelry, &c. J. Murphy, Kent and Liverpool st.
New York.

Wanted a few good Black English CARRIER BEE state prices and where to send to Box 441, General Post Office.

Read Horses and Cows REMOVED from St. SIG-
MOND'S premises, 105 Canal-st., New York.

Freelish Cottage, Redfern, near Freeling-street.
FOR SALE, FIRMING-NET, and quantity of Fish Gear, & Breams & Catfish, 1000 for sale.

